

A white dove is shown in flight, wings spread wide, against a bright blue sky with soft, wispy clouds. Sunbeams or light rays emanate from behind the dove, creating a halo effect. The dove's feathers are detailed, showing individual feathers on its wings and tail. Its red feet are visible as it flies.

7 Ways to Have An Out-of-this-World Devotional

REGULAR READING OF THE WORD is essential in our relationship with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. But how can your devotionals be more than checking off something on your list of things to do? Here's some pointers to help you have a devotional that's out of this world!reached toward God's greater blessings despite the overwhelming fear at times he felt. That is true courage and integrity!

Always start with thanksgiving and praise. In Psalm 100, we are instructed to enter His courts with thanksgiving. Before you even crack open the pages of the Bible, start with a prayer of gratitude. Thank Him for what He is doing in your life. Adore God and praise Him for who He is.

2 Ask the Holy Spirit to come. Of course as believers we have the indwelling of the Spirit. However intentionally asking the Spirit to enter you and fill you to overflowing and to give you wisdom and insight while you read the Scriptures is extremely important.

3 Practice the presence of Jesus. Remember that Jesus is right beside you. Imagine He is there. I love how Brother Lawrence in Practicing the Presence of Jesus describes his experience practicing this. Why, he found even washing dishes was a worshipful experience!

4 Whenever possible, include others. Jesus said “Where two or more are gathered, there am I with them.” Jesus’ power and presence is realized in a special way when you join in community. Family devotionals, couples’ devotionals, and devotionals among friends is powerful and effective.

5 Journal about your reading. Purchase a blank journal or notebook at the store. Use a special pen, too! Ask simple questions, like “What does God say about [whatever topic you are studying]” and “What is my response?”

6 Listen to instrumental music while you are having your devotional. Music will help you focus, especially if you are new to having devotionals. Instrumental, worshipful music won't distract you as much as music with vocals. I like to listen to soundtracks like Lord of the Rings or Chronicles of Narnia. Classical music is great, too!

7 When you're done reading and journaling, spend some time talking to God about what you learned. Then humble yourself before Him and confess how you've failed Him. Surrender whatever you're holding back from Him or what might be consuming you like fear, worry, etc. Then spend time lifting up others before God. After that, pray for you and your needs. End the quiet time with thanksgiving and praise.

BLESSINGS JOURNEY Devotional Plan

IN THIS DEVOTIONAL PLAN, there are 496 verses total that contain the word bless, blessed, and blessing. This list is based on a search of the English Standard Version (ESV). While 384 verses are in the Old Testament, 112 are in the New Testament.

When reading the Bible, read the context of the verses. Usually that means reading a chapter before and a chapter after at the very least.

Always remember when interpreting the Bible, keep the context in mind. Also, interpret the Bible with the Bible. It's a whole book and so the whole book should be kept in mind when determining the meaning of a verse.

Lastly, consider the culture that existed at the time of the writing.

There's much more to studying and interpreting the Bible, but that will get you started!

I hope you enjoy these verses! I found out from personal experience that diligent study and application can transformed stress into blessings!

AngelArts

ANGELARTS, A CREATIVE ARTS AGENCY & PUBLISHING HOUSE, exists to help individuals and families reach new heights in their lives and beyond through branding and marketing training and resources, homeschooling curriculum, and inspirational products and publishing.

If you like this book, you'll love Dana's products and services at AngelArts.biz that will help you reach new heights in your life, home, relationships, homeschooling, business, ministry, and artistry. Her products and services range from unique gifts and cards that will inspire your friends, family and associates and you, to books, homeschooling curriculum, and informational products that will transform your life today; to brand marketing and product design that will make your business stand out above the crowd!

While Dana's expertise is in graphic arts, writing, publishing, and music, she also is a homeschooling mother devoted to working at home. Her desire is that AngelArts, and her work, will be a vehicle for God's glory. Because she is always reaching for new heights in her life and beyond and wants to inspire others to do the same!

Why the name AngelArts? Because excellence in art and literature is very important to Dana, and inspirational art is her passion. The company's mission, as Dana envisions it, is to be a vehicle. A vehicle for God's glory, a vehicle for artists to grow in their careers, and a vehicle for her own gifts and talents to grow and help others in publishing, graphic arts, writing, and music.

Dana chose the name AngelArts because ever since she was a little girl she has been reaching for the arts. Her mother, Ann Neal, took this photograph of her when she was a toddler, complete with tinsel halo above her head. She was always reaching for the piano, Mrs. Neal says, and wanted to learn from a young age. She finally was able to get lessons at age seven and is still playing (when time and homeschooling duties allow) on the same piano years later!

If you liked this devotional plan, you will love Dana's books on Amazon! 31 Day Blessings Journey: A Devotional that Will Transform Your Stress into Blessings is available as a printed book and a Kindle book!
